

Writing With The Senses – Day 4

Open Quick Questions

Well, folks... we have been working, huh? The submissions I've read have been excellent. Are there any "open forum" questions you'd like to ask on the topic of sensory data? Now's the time to ask—BIG GRIN!

This evening I posted work to the Day 1 & 2 topic boxes where many people submitted, so be sure to check my comments... I answered everyone and read through each piece. Based upon what types of questions pop up tonight, I'll do a summary post for tomorrow evening in hopes to address where there are still questions/concerns. Cool?

I hope this last couple of days had been helpful... have a GREAT evening! Leslie!
